Since 2015, Impact has awarded over $1.1 million. Membership consists of women who annually contribute $1,100 ($1,000 to the Impact Grant and a $100 administrative fee). Once a year, Impact members gather for the Annual Awards Celebration to vote on which nonprofit programs will receive Impact's $100,000 grants. The amount of grants awarded depends on the number of members.

"It is very exciting to announce our 2023 Impact Grant finalists," said Lauren Sterlacci, 2022/23 president of Impact the Palm Beaches. "We seek to fund projects that are truly transformational, address unmet needs innovatively, impact the community and are sustainable for years to come. One woman cam make a difference ... and together, we make IMPACTI"

Impact the Palm Beaches received 60 grant proposals from area nonprofits. The grant committee narrowed them down to 14 RFPs, then seven site visits, leading to the four finalists. The grants committee consisted of 30 Impact members, including this year's Chair Aleese Kopf, and Vice Chairs Kristen Perrone and Erin Standish.

The Eighth Annual Impact the Palm Beaches Awards Celebration on April 20, at the Palm Beach.
